SOUVENIR PROGRAMME

We have the temerity to

BLOW OUR OWN TRUMPET

The PHOENICIA LAUNDRY has been operating for more than twelve years.

It started with the most up-to-date machinery and has remained up-to-date by building expansion and regular plant additions to meet the ever-increasing demand.

Our DRY CLEANING department is several years younger but its success has been none the less remarkable.

Its machine capacity has already been doubled and now still more machinery is en route to speed up deliveries.

In these days when the development of local industry is in the forefront of the news we take pride in stating that the PHOENICIA LAUNDRY and DRY CLEANING departments give employment to 67 operatives — with more to come.

*Do you blame us for indulging in a

"CHORUS MELITENSIS"

The "CHORUS MELITENSIS", formerly the "Malta Operatic Choral Society", numbering about 65 male and female singers was formed in late 1959, with Joseph Sammut as its Conductor and Bice Bisazza as the Chorus Instructor.

Last year the Choir participated at the Llangollen International Musical Eisteddfod, in North Wales, competing against Choirs from England, Scotland, Wales, Ireland, France, Spain, Italy, Austria, Germany, Czechoslovakia, U.S.A., Holland and Sweden in the Male, Female and Mixed Choir Competitions. The Mixed Choir was placed 11th out of 24 and the Male Choir 8th out of 20 choirs.

Miss Anna Maria Bisazza took part in the Piano Solo Competition and distinguished herself by winning the first prize.

Miss Juliette Bisazza took part in both Singing and Violin Competitions. In the latter she came out third and in the former was awarded second prize, just missing the top rating by one mark.

It was during this Festival that it was decided that the name of the Choir "Malta Operatic Choral Society" should be dropped and substituted by "CHORUS MELITENSIS", as the old name was giving the impression that the main interests of the Choir were devoted to operatic and not choral works.

Next August the Choir will be participating for the first time at the International Choir Festival held at Arezzo, Italy, and will be competing in the Male and Mixed Sections.

Programme

PART I

COSI' FAN TUTTE (Overture)

MOZART (1756 - 1791)

This Overture brings up the curtain on Mozart's delicious and sparkling opera also known in England as "The School of Lovers" on a very amusing and polished libretto by da Ponte. It was a 'command' performance produced for the first time on the 21st January, 1790, for Emperor Joseph II of Austria, to whom Mozart had been appointed "Kammer-Musicus" in 1787.

CHORAL FANTASIA (Opus 80)

BEETHOVEN (1770 - 1827)

(For Pianoforte, Chorus and Orchestra).

This choral fantasy in C, composed at the age of 38 for pianoforte, chorus and orchestra, is considered to be an experimental composition in which Beethoven took his own early melody to Burger's 'GEGENLIEBE' and developed it as an imposing set of free variations for his strangely selected forces. This work dedicated to Maximilian Joseph, King of Bavaria could have been a stepping stone to his ninth symphony (Choral).

Soloist — ANNA MARIA BISAZZA.

INNO AL SOLE (Iris)

MASCAGNI (1863 - 1945)

Iris (1898) is set in Japan and tells the story of a young and beautiful girl whose innocence is betrayed for gold and kills herself in horror. The poor girl is befriended only by the 'Rising Sun' and the opera opens with the chorus singing its praises.

— INTERVAL 15 MINUTES —

Leader — A.M. VELLA.

Chorus Instructor — BICE BISAZZA.

Conductor — JOSEPH SAMMUT.

PART II

SPRINGTIME IN ANGUS

ERIC COATES (1886 - 1957)

This is included in the three part suite "The Three Elizabeths", a work dedicated to Her Majesty the Queen Mother. The three parts are "Halcyon Days" (Elizabeth of Tudor), "Springtime in Angus" (Elizabeth of Glamis), and finally a March — "Youth of Britain" (Princess Elizabeth).

TOWARD THE UNKNOWN REGION

VAUGHAN WILLIAMS (1872 - 1958)

The composer describes this work as "a song for chorus and orchestra". And a great choral song it is, the music of the questioning: "Darest thou now O Soul, Walk out with me toward the unknown region", eventually finding answer in the broad swinging melody of: "Then we burst forth, we float in time and space . . ." The words come from Whitman's "Whispers of Heavenly Death." Vaughan Williams was 33 when he wrote this music and 35 when it was first produced at the Leeds Festival in 1907. It was the first Vaughan Williams work which made any great impact on critics and public.

HUNTING SONG

CARMELO PACE (1906 -)

In 1956 this work was awarded first prize in the Rediffusion's Composers' Competition (judged in London by Sir Arthur Bliss). It was performed by the "CHORUS MELITENSIS" (then "The Malta Operatic Choral Society") in the Llangollen International Musical Eisteddfod in Wales last year, in the original version with a piano accompaniment. The present version to be heard for the first time has an orchestral accompaniment (arranged by the composer) and the addition of a short introduction.

INNO DELLE NAZIONI

VERDI (1813 - 1901)

This cantata (Hymn of the Nations) is remarkable for the fact that its text is by Arrigo Boito, and its finale consists of an apostrophe to England, France and Italy, set to a contrapuntal combination of "God Save The Queen", "La Marseillaise", and Novaro's "Inno di Mameli".

Tenor — ANDREW SAPIANO.
