SOUTHAMPTON UNIVERSITY THEATRE GROUP

The group was formed as a student society by members of the University shortly after the last war, when many of the students were of mature age. At first there was no stage to act upon but one was built by the students at the end of the gymnasium; later when a theatre in the town was demolished the old dimmer board was installed here. This stage was used for the Group's productions until a year ago, when the Nuffield Theatre, built with money from the University and the Nuffield Foundation, was opened on the University site. This is a theatre used by professional and amateur companies, and apart from a Director, Administrative Assistant, Technical Director and Box Office attendant it is staffed back-stage and front-of-house by the University students. The Stage Administration Group, another student society, provides technical crew for all University productions.

EXTRACT FROM THE CONSTITUTION

'The aims of the Group are to promote a better knowledge of, and fuller enthusiasm for; drama in the University, by encouraging the production, reading and writing of plays. The plays chosen should in general have an intrinsic dramatic interest, and should include a high proportion of works which, because of their specialised appeal, can seldom be produced by the professional theatre'

Plays performed in recent years include:—

- "Volpone" Ben Jonson (this play reached the finals of the National Union of Students' Drama Festival).
- "Fairy Tales of New York" J. P. Donleavy
- "Dr. Maccabre" Jocelyn Powell (also reached N.U.S. finals)
- "King John, Hamlet" Shakespeare
- "The Malcontent" John Marston
- "The Judgement" Kafka
- "The Stronger" Strindberg
- "Maximum Security" Genet
- "Calvary" } W. B. Yeats
- "Jaques" } part of a lecture Ionesco
- "The Public Eye" Peter Shaffer
- "Vasco" Georges Schehade
