

to-do list

podcast

You're Wrong About

Mike and Sarah are journalists obsessed with the past. Every week they reconsider an event, person, or phenomenon that's been miscast in the public imagination.

book

Notes of a Dirty Old Man by Charles Bukowski

A collection of underground newspaper columns written by the laureate of American lowlife, Charles Bukowski – fun fact, the FBI kept a file on Bukowski because of this book!

movie

Blindness (2008)

An epidemic known as the 'white sickness' blinds everyone. Victims are quarantined in an abandoned mental hospital. A woman whose sight is unaffected by the plague follows her infected husband into quarantine. Based on the book by Portuguese author, José Saramago.

youtube channel

Curator's Corner

Edutainment brought to you by the British Museum! Curators of the Museum tell you all about themselves, their research, and what it's like to work with some of the world's oldest and most significant objects.

tv

How to Change Your Mind

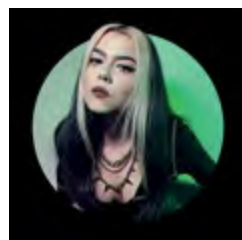

A series that explores what psychedelics can teach people about consciousness, dying, addiction, depression, and transcendence.

music

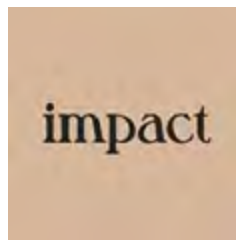

Violet Orlandi

Covers of all your favourite rock and alternative anthems! If you want to hear a familiar song with a unique twist, Violet Orlandi has you covered!

instagram

impact

Impact provides digestible and socially impactful content. If you want more knowledge about social issues from around the world delivered directly to your instagram feed, look no further!