MALTA AND THE GERMAN NAVY – A POSTAL HISTORY CONNECTION

By Giovanni Bonello LL.D.

Three German warships made history during the first world war: the Emden, the Goeben and the Breslau. They all have an interesting Maltese connection, directly, or through a postal history linkage.

Fig.1 The Goeben coaling in the Grand Harbour on November 12, 1912

The Breslau arrived in Malta for coaling on November 11, 1912. She was followed the next day by the brand new Goeben, then on her maiden voyage. The arrival in Malta of this powerful record-breaking cruiser was greeted by thousands of British seamen and Maltese who lined the Grand Harbour to admire that new wonder of naval engineering.

I have been unable to confirm that the Emden ever visited Malta. Very likely she did not. Her connection with Malta is more of a postal history nature.

I am pleased to publish two rare contemporary photos of the Goeben and the Breslau in the Grand Harbour (Fig. 1 and 2) and a picture of the Emden taken elsewhere (Fig. 3).

After their history-making epics, the crews of these three German warships fell into allied hands. Those of the Breslau and the Emden were interned in Malta for the duration of the hostilities. Prisoner of War mail from Malta by the officers and men of the Emden and the Breslau are highly valued by collectors.

I am publishing a prisoner of war postcard from a crew member of the Emden (Fig.4) and a letter from a seaman of the Breslau (Fig. 5), both detained in Fort Salvatore. I do not believe that the crew of the Goeben was interned in Malta and I have not, personally, come across any correspondence originating in Malta from any of its crew.

Prinz Franz Joseph of Hohenzollern, a brother to the Queen of Portugal and a high ranking officer of the Emden, has left a vivid description of his internment in Malta and of the life here of his fellow prisoners of war from the Emden and Breslau. His memoirs were serialised in the Malta Study Circle's Newsletter (Vol. 9, No 6 & 9; Vol. 10 No 2; Vol. 12 No 4 & 6).

The exploits of the three German warships are to be found in every history of the Great War. The Emden (completed in 1912, a main armament of twelve 4.1 inch guns and a speed of 27.5 knots) left the Pacific Fleet for service in the Indian Ocean. In a fortnight she sunk 13 allied ships; in all, 70,000 tons of allied shipping in seven weeks. At Madras, India, she set fire to half a million tons of petroleum. For three months all efforts by the allied navies to catch up with her were foiled. She was eventually destroyed by the Australian cruiser Sydney on November 9, 1914 (Fig. 6).

Fig. 3 The Emden

Fig. 4 An official stationery postcard sent by a member of the crew of the Emden from Fort Salvatore on November 15, 1915, stamped by POW-71

The survivors were made prisoners of war and interned in Malta where they remained until the hostilities were over, the officers in Verdala Barracks, the men in Fort San Salvatore.

The Breslau and the Goeben had an equally adventurous fate. The Goeben (22,600 tons, ten 11 inch guns, speed 28 knots) was the flagship of the German Mediterranean division. Together with the cruiser Breslau (twelve 4.1 inch guns, 27.5 knots) she was responsible for bringing Turkey into the war on the side of Germany. Despite their overwhelming superiority, the Allied fleets had failed to intercept the two German cruisers. After bombarding Bone and Philippeville and coaling in Messina, they succeeded in reaching Constantinople (fig. 7). Both the British admirals responsible for this debacle were court-marshalled.

Such was the prestige the two legendary ships acquired that public opinion in Turkey turned in favour of Germany, and Turkey's entry in the war on the side of Germany had a tremendous influence on its outcome.

The crew was dressed up in Turkish naval uniform, and on the 10th August 1914 the Goeben passed formally into the Turkish Navy, under the name of Yavuz Sultan Selim. Under its new name, this ship, one of the longest surviving battle cruisers in history, was still operational during the second world war and was only taken out of service after 51 years, not before having also received a NATO pennant number. She was finally broken up in 1972, when an effort to retransfer this historic ship to Germany had failed.

My grateful thanks are due to Mr Victor Wickman for his informed and prompt assistance. The sketch maps are by courtesy of I. Richards, J.B. Gordon and J.A. Morris (Harrap).

CHRISTMAS 1989 ISSUE

by J. Farrugia

Date of Issue 11th November, 1989
Values 3c + 1c, 10c + 2c, 20c + 3c.
Stamp Size 35mm x 26.4mm
Art Designer Joseph L. Mallia
Printers Printex Limited
Process Lithography
Perforation 13.5 x 13.5
Watermark Maltese Crosses Upright
Paper Chalk Surfaced Gum P.V.A.

Colours:

This set was produced in multicolours using the same four different colours for each value.

Designs:

This set of three stamps is the twenty-sixth consecutive set in the series of Christmas stamps issued by the Malta Postal Administration. As usual, each stamp includes a surcharge to its postal value, proceeds from which will go to philanthropic organisations.

The stamps feature reproductions of paintings of Angels by Mattia Preti found on the vault of St John's Co-Cathedral in Valletta.

The Printed Sheet of this Christmas set is quite different from the Printed Sheets of other sets. Whereas, other sets, have Printed Sheets for each value, made up of two or more Panes, this set has one Printed Sheet for all three values printed together, each value having a Pane A, on the same Printed Sheet. I think that this was done to save watermarked paper, because Christmas sets are bought mainly by philatelists on the first day of issue or during Christmas time. After Christmas and New Year, not that many are sold because of the surcharge on each value, and I suppose large amounts remain unsold, hence the above system of Printed Sheets for this Christmas set. Each Pane A, for each value, has fifty stamps, made up of five rows of ten stamps. All three stamps are of the horizontal format.

Plate/Pane Numbers:

These are seen under the first stamp of the bottom row, in each Pane, of each value.

$$3c+1c = 1A \times 4$$

$$10c+2c = 1A \times 4$$

$$20c+3c = 1A \times 4$$

Perforation of Margin

The left hand margin of Panes A, of all values, is imperforate. The other three margins of these same Panes are all fully perforated. Registration or cutting marks were only seen at the top, of the left and right hand margins, in the 3c+1c value.

Imprint Blocks:

PRINTEX LIMITED MALTA is seen under the last stamp of the bottom row, in each Pane, of each value. Letters are 1mm high and printed in black. An Imprint Block of four will also include the colour checks. A special hand-postmark, incorporating a motif, was used on the first day of issue.

This set remained for sale up to Friday, 30th March, 1990. Sales up to 12.45pm on the first day of issue amounted to Lm18,012.

Introducing the new look airline. For the new look Europe.

A new decade. A new Europe. A new look for Air Malta.

A bold new livery to reflect the Europe of the nineties.

And not just a new look. A brand new aircraft.

Because in 1990 Air Malta will be taking delivery of the world acclaimed Airbus 320.

With seating for over 174 and a turn-around time of just under an hour, the new A320 will play a major role in our dedication to developing ties with Europe.

As well as developing our routes.

Just ten years ago, we flew 850,000 passengers to, and from 25 airports.
Today it's well over a million passengers and 48 airports.

Three of which are completely new routes – Athens, Copenhagen and Geneva.

Which is exactly how it should be for an airline that's always seen itself as a major player in the European Market.

And we've every intention of being an even bigger player and creating even stronger links with Europe in the 90's.

But the new look and new Airbus are only a part of it. Not everything's new.
Some things we'll never change. Our service. And our welcome. That's a promise!
