Examples of expected answer
TWO implications, apart from the effect on profit, are to be explained. More variety: Having a variety of menus to cater for different diets and conditions has a positive implication on the variety of dishes that clients can choose from as this can increase the number of people that choose to dine out because they are no longer as restricted as before in terms of food choice. Students can also choose to explain the effect on profit and needs in food preparation. Accept any other valid implications. Answers should be similar to the explanation given above.
