MERA

Malta Educational Research Association (MERA) is a voluntary, professional and scientific association engaged in educational research. To achieve the adopted goals, the Malta Educational Research Association will conduct and initiate its own research activities, organize scientific and professional meetings, support the work of its members organized in research networks, facilitate the exchange of research-related information and organize other forms of collaborative research.

ECER 2014, Porto

Following an official invitation from the European Educational Research Association (EERA), Malta Educational Research Association (MERA) was established in 2014 by the Faculty of Education at the University of Malta. MERA is currently an EERA Candidate Member and, upon the election of the national Executive Board, MERA will accomplish the main condition for full membership status in the European Educational Research Association.
